

Udsnit fra brev til HF

Dear future host family,

My name is Maria Eduarda. I have been born and raised in Brasil, where I still live. As my parents are divorced, I live with my mom and sister and visit my father whenever I can. We usually cook, go to movies, to the cinema and parks together, though we sometimes go in road trips and go out to eat. I enjoy being in their company even if it is not that common.

Apart from school and studying, I dedicate myself to my book, writing, reading and crafting. My book is near its end and even if I am quite attached to it, there are other ideas waiting to be written. I find that my characters and the ones in the books I read turn into a part of me when I identify with them, which is comforting because they will always be with me.

When I went to Denmark (specifically Aarhus, Odense and Copenhagen) in July, I feel even deeper in love with it. I have an interest in the Danish language and literature, which was motivated by the trip and I have learnt more about it ever since I came back. My dream has always been to study abroad and I am excited for the fact that I will now be able to make it come true.

Anyway, I think that spending a year as an exchange student in Denmark will help me grow into a more mature, independent and sociable person, besides contributing for me to learn more about the country's culture and language. I cannot wait to live the great experience that my exchange will be and to meet new people, even knowing it means leaving Brazil and my life here for a year.

Sincerely,

Maria Eduarda
